SWEPT OVER THE PANHANDLE OF TEXAS

SEVERAL PEOPLE WERE BADLY INJURED.

PROPERTY DAMAGE VERY HEAVY

Middle Tennessee Was Also the Center of a General Cloud Burst Friday, Doing Much Damage.

Fort Worth, Texas, March 29.—Today reports have reached here of a severe electrical and windstorm which swept the panhandle of Texas and points in Oklahoma last night. At Geraldine, Tex., a colony town established by Fitzgerald, of Indianapolis, several houses were wrecked. The home of John Ingersoll was blown to pieces and a child killed and four others fatally injured. Houses were wrecked at Sherman and Godley, Texas, and at Guthrie, O. T. At Colbert, a number of people were injured. The property damage is heavy.

Rain in Tennessee.

Nashville, Tenn., March 29.—Middle Tennessee seems to have been the center of a general cloudburst Friday, one of the hardest and most damaging rains in the history of the country falling. Both the Louisville and Nashville and Chattanooga and Knoxville roads are badly tied up while the Tenn. Central and Nashville and Knoxville are practically out of business. Reports are slow today in coming in, but enough is known to say that farming operations have received a heavy setback. Railroad bridges and trestles are swept away and demolished, while many county bridges and turnpikes have gone with the turbulent waters. Several towns notably in the upper country are cut off from the outside world, several of them badly flooded, being surrounded by water. Last night a through Chattanooga passenger train was caught in a fill with bridges washed away on either side. The engineer went to report the trouble and up to a late hour has not returned. The Nashville and Knoxville lost two or three bridges while the Tennessee Central is shy the false work of the bridge over Mill Creek and several structures. Point Pleasant is badly flooded. Wires are down all over the middle of the state.

SEVERAL LIVES LOST.

Chattanooga, Tenn., March 29.—Harriman, Tenn., has been almost destroyed by the flood. The damage is over a quarter of a million dollars. Several lives are reported to have been lost.

NATIONAL GUARDS

Extension of the Time of Encampment to Fourteen Days by the Harding Bill.

Columbus, O., March 29.—The Harding bill passed last week by the Senate, to improve the efficiency of the National Guard, was passed by the House with very little opposition. The new law extends the time for encampments to fourteen days and increases the appropriations for the various headquarters and bands. The law was enacted largely for the purpose of availing the state military of the encouragement contemplated by the federal government in a bill now in congress, to make large appropriations to the militia of the various states.

NOT WORRIED

Christmas Tries to Stop Effect of His Report on Sale of the Islands.

New York, March 29.—A Herald cable says: The Daily Mail's correspondent in Copenhagen has had a talk with Captain Christmas, who is not the least astonished by the American scandal.

"The Danish 'No Sale' party," he said, "hopes to break off the sale by the help of a scandal. For that purpose somebody stole my confidential report to the Government, and engaged a certain Niels Gron, an American citizen, to go to Washington to start the report to Representative Richardson and to the newspapers."

Captain Christmas sent through a press agency here on February 19 a declaration, under pressure of an oath, that no member of the American Congress was either directly or indirectly interested in the sale of the Danish Islands. As far as he knew, he added, he sent this declaration to the Foreign office with a demand to forward it to the Danish Ambassador, M. Brun, in Washington. It was also published in all the Danish newspapers without denial.

PURCHASE

OF THE METZ CORNER ON NORTH PARK ANNOUNCED.

Big Office Building to go up After a While—Fine Residences—Other Building.

The records of the Court House show that an important real estate transaction has just taken place and the deal indicates that the rumor that has been current for some time regarding a large office building in Newark will be realized.

Henry F. Fleck has just purchased a half interest in the Metz corner block on North Park Place at the intersection of North Park Place and North Second street, being the brick building that stands at the northeast corner of the public square; consideration $15,000.

Negotiations are said to be on for the purchase of the corner clear up to the Kuster property and north as far as the Daugherty property which is a block 100 by 150 feet.

While it may be some time, possibly a year or more, before the improvement of this corner is begun, it is said to be almost certain that a five story modern office building with two store-rooms on the ground floor, will go up on that corner.

Mr. John J. Carroll expects to get the plans about April 1, for his house to be built on Hudson Park Place this spring, and it is understood that Mr. J. J. De McNamar, who has bought property in that section will also build. Mr. Frank J. Bader received plans last week for a new residence which he will erect at once on the corner of Granville and Eddy streets.

Several fine houses are now going up on North Third street and more modest ones are being erected in large numbers over the city. Several hundred houses were built in Newark last season and the contractors anticipate another busy season this year.

Newark is moving forward at a lively pace and evidences of her growth and prosperity are daily more manifest.

It is the best town in Ohio and Ohio is the best state in the forty-five. Help make it boom. If you can't help, keep still, or in street vernacular, "don't knock."

G. A. R. FORCED RESIGNATION AS PENSION COMMISSIONER.

GEN. TORENCE SEES PRESIDENT.

And the Belief is that a Grand Army Man Will be Named as Successor to Mr. Evans.

Washington, March 29.—It now develops that H. Clay Evans, the pension commissioner had no intention of resigning yesterday but was forced out last night by the Grand Army men. His resignation had been in the hands of the President since March 15 and was given then to save the embarrassment of being pushed out under Grand Army pressure he was let out last night. The giving out his letter of resignation followed the visit to the President last night of Gen. Torrence, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R. It is probable that the wishes of the G. A. R. will be followed in appointing a successor to Evans.

With Evans out the G. A. R. will now turn its attention to Dr. J. P. Raub, Medical referee of the pension bureau. There is a bitter feeling against him among the old soldiers on account of his rulings. Evans will be permitted to select almost any available political berth to his liking.

Evans' Resignation.

DART CAME IN THE FORM OF A BULLET

WHICH MELLEIN INTENDED FOR ANOTHER WOMAN

WHILE SERVING TERM IN PRISON

Man Wrote to the Girl He Had Disfigured for Life and Now They Are Married.

Providence, R. I., March 29.—The wedding in this city of Miss Helena Sayles, formerly of Dupont, Ohio, but now of this city, and Thomas D. Mellen was the happy ending of an accident that happened three years ago, when Miss Sayles' nose was shot away by a bullet intended for another woman. The woman Mellen intended to kill was Miss Sadie Keene, who, he claimed, had jilted him. The marriage was brought about through the bridegroom's sympathy for Miss Sayles, whom he had unintentionally disfigured, notwithstanding that he had served two and one-half years in prison for his deplorable act, and that the bride was the one who gave the testimony that put him behind the bars. The shooting occurred at Dupont, O.

Miss Sayles, who at the time lived at Dupont, Ohio, was engaged to marry a student at Oberlin college, and it is said that as a result of the disfigurement this engagement was broken off. Mellen heard of this while serving time in the Ohio Penitentiary, and wrote letters of sympathy to her from his cell, and the correspondence inspired by his remorse resulted in the wedding. The last time previous to the day of the wedding that Miss Sayles had seen Mellen was when he was a prisoner in the dock and she a witness against him. He is now her prisoner for life, and those who were present at the ceremony predict that his captivity will be enviable, for a more lovable woman never went to the altar, they say.

RHODES' WILL

DIAMOND KING LEAVES WEALTH FOR EDUCATION.

Bulk of Fortune Goes For This Cause. Small Bequests to Family.—Funeral Arrangements.

London, March 29.—The Daily Mail says it is in a position to assert that the late Cecil Rhodes left the bulk of his fortune, after some personal and family bequests, to the promotion of his vast imperial plan of education.

This project embraces every land where the union jack flies. Its purpose is the intellectual betterment of the British race throughout the world and the fostering of the imperial sentiment.

The Daily Mail adds that this idea of better fitting "younger Britain" to cope successfully with rival nationalities was long a dominant scheme with Mr. Rhodes, but that even his closest friends little imagined the absorbing hold it obtained upon him until this was disclosed by the terms of his will.

The details of this plan of education will be made public in a few days.

Cape Town, March 29.—The coffin containing the body of Cecil Rhodes will be conveyed to the Parliamentary buildings here during the morning of April 3 and will lie in state in the vestibule till 3 in the afternoon, when it will be removed to the Anglican Cathedral where the first portion of the burial service will be read.

The funeral procession will afterward traverse the principal streets of Cape Town to the railroad station. Thence the coffin will be taken by a special train to Bulawayo, stopping for a short time at Kimberley. Only a few intimate friends will accompany the body to Bulawayo.

The coffin, during the funeral procession at Cape Town, will be carried on the gun carriage of "Long Cecil" the famous gun used at the siege of Kimberley.

FORAKER

CAUSED MUCH COMMOTION AT COLUMBUS

BY HIS RECENT VISIT TO THE STATE CAPITAL.

HANNA FORCES STIRRED UP.

Chatter About the Alleged Roosevelt-Foraker Combination—Hanna Redistricting Bill.

Columbus, O., March 29.—The chief topic of interest in political circles this week, has been the visit of Senator Foraker to Columbus, and it will be a long time before the clouds which his advent brought with it have rolled away. The senator declared that he was here "on legal business only," but it is a sure thing that the real occasion of the visit was regarded as not only illegal but sacrilegious by the Hanna people. It is significant that during the first evening of his stay Senator Foraker disposed of such side issues as taxation, redistricting and other legislative subjects and then immediately buckled down to the true object of his mission. He dismissed Governor Nash and the other Hanna men who called on him to induce him to pull their legislative chestnuts out of the fire with a few noncommittal expressions the first night; but after that he gave all the attention demanded of him to Charles L. Kurtz, State Mine Inspector Biddison and the other insurgents who led the recent fight against Hanna in the organization of the legislature.

It is understood very well and privately admitted by Senator Hanna's followers that Foraker on this visit gave definite form to the effort to defeat Hanna for re-election two years hence.

The Hanna people, except for publication, do not conceal their anxiety to reopen the factional fight again, with the United States senatorship as the prize, before the Forakerites have had a chance to secretly perfect their organization against them. Both sides are ready for the fray, and it will break out afresh all over the state as soon as the legislative adjourns, if it can be held in abeyance until that time.

Foraker while here was asked many times by correspondents and others as to his views respecting the Republican presidential nomination in 1904, and in every instance he gave a left-handed whack to his colleague by remarking that Roosevelt was "the only person thought of in this connection." The inference was plain every time that nobody had thought of Hanna. A very interesting phase of this subject was also brought out by questions designed to prove the truth of the report that Foraker regards himself as Roosevelt's heir in case the latter cannot land the nomination. The senator expressed no surprise at these inquiries and his attitude indicated that a compact exists between him and the president looking to his own nomination as the national administration's second choice. This would explain his constant nursing of the Roosevelt boom and his insistence that "nobody else is to be thought of."

When the Hanna leaders are approached on this subject they sniff the air and grow red in the face. They undoubtedly fear a Roosevelt-Hanna combination, however. If they do not believe that it already exists; and nothing could be more logical than that Boss Hanna should be put forward openly as the candidate of the anti-administration forces for president, in case he succeeds in being himself reelected senator. It will be seen that the stake being played for by the Ohio Republicans is a very large one, and perhaps it is not surprising that both sides are ready to shed blood for the prize—provided it is the other fellow's blood.

A last desperate effort to rush the administration tax measures through the senate, thereby making them laws, will be made Wednesday. The Cole and Willis bills cannot be passed without receiving votes due to party pressure and not prompted by the judgment of those casting them. Five senators—Messrs. Archer, Wilhelm, Riggs, Monte and Connel—are opposed

An Easter Song

BY NEIL MACDONALD

COPYRIGHT 1902 BY HAMILTON MUSK

She sang me a song of triumph, a hymn of the Easter time
That swept o'er the chords of feeling with the charm of its words and rhyme.

The theme was of love that conquered, that won in the war with death
Of hope in a life immortal surviving the fleeting breath.

Like a grand, triumphant psalm, the psalm of a love supreme
My soul was filled with its capture—I lived in a strange, sweet dream.

And a calm came over my spirit, a peace without doubt or fear:
I felt on the waves of music upraised to a purer sphere.

COPYRIGHT BY PARKINSON CO. NEW YORK

Bright voices opened before me, demanding that the lost note be true:

I longed for a bliss which only the soul finds in rest with God.

The wonderful anthem coded, its last notes dying away
As the youth wind breathed its promise of verdure and flowers for May.

The jubilee chimes of Easter rang out with a glad refrain:
I felt that for men, as nature, the springtime would come again.

I thought of the risen Saviour, I thought of His empty tomb.

And over the graves of ages I saw the amaranth bloom.

Last Prop Gone.

The last peg the American-Tribune had to stand upon in its losing fight on the wrong side of the water works issue was ruthlessly knocked from under it yesterday. Having been driven from one untenable position to another, it made its last stand against the water works proposition on what it called the "chief recommendation" of the non-partisan committee. It actually claimed to be the mouthpiece of the committee and dwelt long and loud in claiming that the committee's "chief recommendation" was to wait for two years. The A-T. foolishly made this argument, its "last ditch," as it were, notwithstanding the fact that the City Council met the non-partisan committee's objection by passing the supplementary ordinance limiting the issue of the bonds to two years hence.

Now all the Councilmen in office and all the candidates for Council of both parties have come forward and signed a pledge that this ordinance shall not be rescinded. And this pledge has brought forward a supplementary report from the non-partisan water works committee recommending that the people vote at the coming spring election:

"For the issue of water works Bonds." Further comment is unnecessary unless the American-Tribune persists in hanging up on the wrong side and continues to offer arguments that are clearly in the interest of the water works company.

The side editor again got in his cruel work on the American-Tribune yesterday, and the result was the poor concern was in a sorry plight when the paper came out. It remains to be seen how long the A-T. will continue to stay in the water works ring and take its punishment. It is becoming fearfully disfigured.

OUR CITY'S ONLY SAFETY

Against the Power of the Water Works Company to Dictate Prices and Terms for Water.

If a City Council could dictate prices for water rents according to the law as it stands today, the people of Newark would be a set of great fools for wanting to build water works of their own. Capitalists, too, would be downright idiots to invest their money in private water works plants if a City Council had such power under the law. If the Council of Newark could dictate prices, as the American-Tribune so absurdly maintains, the present water works company would be mighty anxious to sell their plant for almost anything they could get for it, for present prices for water would take an awful tumble. If the Council had such power to dictate prices for water the rates the present company is getting from the city and from individual consumers could be promptly reduced to one-fifth or one-tenth what they are, when the present contract expires.

But let our citizens consider for just one moment the utter absurdity and falsity of this claim that the A. T. has been making.

Such a preposterous argument as this can be taken in no other light than that of being clearly in the interest of the water works company.

A Knock Out Blow.

The supplementary report of the non-partisan water works committee was delivered to both papers simultaneously yesterday afternoon. It appeared in the Advocate with the prominence due to such an important document and the interest it commands with the Newark public at this particular time. But the American-Tribune was minus enterprise and offered as an excuse for not publishing it that it "was received too late." The real trouble was the report was an awful knockout blow for the A-T.

Cheaper water, extension of mains, better fire protection, city ownership—that's what voting for the water works proposition means this spring. A vote against the measure may mean another contract with the present water company and a continuance of the present high rates.

In this water controversy the American-Tribune has agreed with the Advocate on one proposition at least. Both papers have expressed the utmost confidence in the non-partisan committee, as well they should, as the committee is made up of men of honor and respect throughout the community. Messrs. Metz, Franklin, Kibler and Thomas unite in heartily and earnestly recommending the people of Newark to vote for the water works proposition this spring. Now that the committee has so reported will the American-Tribune do the graceful thing by admitting that its opposition is wrong and advising the people to vote for the measure.

That supplementary report of the non-partisan water works committee came down upon the hapless and mistaken American-Tribune like a thunder clap from a clear sky.

There is not the remotest danger that the city would have to pay both the interest on bonds and water rent in case the water works proposition carried this spring. The Council's ordinance backed by the personal pledge of every member and every candidate on both tickets is the guarantee. This has satisfied the non-partisan committee, which now unanimously and enthusiastically says: "VOTE FOR WATER WORKS."

Registration tonight, last chance.

INTEREST OF THE WATER WORKS COMPANY.

Every person with a grain of common sense knows full well that when the existing water works contract expires the PRESENT WATER WORKS COMPANY WILL BE SUPREME DICTATOR OF PRICES AND TERMS, unless the city shall have taken the necessary steps to build and own its own plant.

The water works company will not only have power to demand its own scale of prices, both from the city for fire protection and from individual consumers, but it will have the power to REFUSE TO FURNISH WATER, unless its prices and terms are complied with.

The company will not only be in position to exact whatever prices it dictates, but it can demand that the city shall enter into a contract for any number of years that it sees fit to dictate.

The only means the city of Newark and its citizens have to be relieved from the mercy of the water works company is for the people to vote "For the issue of Water Works Bonds" at the election on April 7.

A Business Proposition.

The water works proposition is not political. It is a business proposition, pure and simple. Party lines are obliterated. The non-partisan committee made up of men of high standing in this community, and the entire City Council and all the candidates on both tickets endorse the Advocate's course. In that there is no dispute.

The city of Newark can either build its own water works or buy the present company's plant, as may be deemed best, can pay interest on the bonds and eventually pay for the system with less drain on the taxpayers than under present conditions where the city pays the water company a fancy price for fire protection. This means eventually lower taxes. City ownership means not only that but it means lower water rental to consumers, and an extension of the mains to provide greater protection in case of fire and to enable all the people in town to use city water if they want it. When such facts are so plain to every thinking man, one is naturally led to inquire, why is the American-Tribune pursuing its course of opposition?

It is the duty of Newark voters to vote for their own welfare and for the taxpayers' interests by supporting the proposition on April 7th. Remember, there is positive assurance that the city will not have both interest on bonds and water rental to pay at the same time. That allegation has been disposed of by the unanimous action of the Council and the indorsement in writing of every candidate on both tickets.

The non-partisan committee says, "Vote for water works" and that is what the Advocate, as the people's friend, recommends.

The American-Tribune says to vote against the water proposition. The Advocate's course in favor of the proposition, is supported by every Republican in the Council, by every Republican candidate for Councilman, and by every Democratic member of the Council or candidate for that office. Incidentally, it might be said that the Advocate is supported by the people, too.

The special non-partisan water works committee's supplementary report endorsing the Advocate's position though submitted at 2:40 p. m. Thursday appeared in full in the Advocate that same afternoon at 3:30. The American-Tribune got the report at the same time. Possibly the Tribune will print it today. It is frequently a day late in important news.

More A. T. Misrepresentation Both as to Water Works and City Hospital.

The A. T. in its silly attempt to make a diversion by a false issue from the popular movement in favor of municipal ownership of the city water works, insinuates in an alleged communication on Friday evening that the Advocate is not in favor of establishing a City Hospital. This insinuation is about as truthful as the other insinuation of the able side editor of the Tribune in regard to the City Water Works proposition. The Advocate is in favor of municipal ownership of the water works, and is in favor of a City Hospital, owned and operated by the city, as it is and always has been, in favor of all improvements and betterments for the city. The Tribune is clearly against municipal ownership of the water works, and it is, and always has been, an obstructionist and opposed to every step of progress that the city has made, when it cannot see some little narrow partisan advantage in that step to itself. Consequently, in the pursuit of this petty partisan advantage it does not hesitate to misrepresent facts and to blacken the fair fame of our beautiful city, both at home and abroad.

Republicans by the score have personally complimented the Advocate for its fight in behalf of the people on the water works issue. We thank them for their support and encouragement and assure them that the Advocate will do its best to secure a favorable vote for the Water Works measure this spring, well knowing that if it now fails there is the utmost danger that another contract with the present company will be forced upon the city. There is no intelligent man in town who believes for a moment that the City can make any contract it desires with the water company. Suppose it could, would the water company be compelled to furnish water at the city's dictated price?

Every Republican in the City Council and every Republican candidate for City Councilman will vote for City Ownership. Each has given his personal pledge to postpone the issue of bonds until two years from date and in this pledge the Republicans are joined by every Democratic member of the Council and by every Democratic candidate. Does the American-Tribune still think the question a "political" one? Democrats and Republicans are united in supporting the measure and the American-Tribune is standing alone on the wrong side.

Every member of the City Council—Republicans and Democrats alike—and every candidate for Council—Republicans and Democrats alike—have signed a pledge not to issue water works bonds until two years from date. The non-partisan committee, made up of representative men, heartily and unanimously favors voting for the water works proposition on April 7. Did you read the committee's supplementary report in yesterday's Advocate?

There is but one danger in this water works matter. It requires a two-thirds vote to secure its passage. The people are urged to vote the separate ballot that will be provided and to place an "X" mark to the left of the line reading: "For the issue of Water Works bonds."

Newark people have been studying the water works proposition for 16 years and they know full well what another contract with the water company means. How much longer would the American-Tribune have them "study" it? Vote for water works.

CIVILIZED WORLD AGAINST THE BOER WAR.

The Boer special envoys to this country, Messrs. Wessels and Wolmerans, who got a very cold shoulder from President Roosevelt and Secretary Hay, before their departure for Europe the other day drew up a statement setting forth their view of the condition of the Boers and the prospects for peace. Their statement declares that "practically the entire public opinion of the civilized world outside of Great Britain, has been strongly enlisted and expressed on the half of the weaker party in the conflict." "Even in Great Britain itself," says the statement, "an important minority, headed by some of the most distinguished men in the church in politics, literature, science, and the universities, has been strongly opposed to the present war." The envoys then set forth the following graphic statement of the condition of the Boers:

"Their farms have been ruined. Their houses burned; their stock, agricultural implements destroyed; their orchards leveled to the ground; their women and children driven by force into those awful death-traps—the concentration camps—resulting in the loss of whole families in an incredibly short space of time; their leaders, some already banished for life, and the others, according to proclamation, with the same fate before them; their property liable by proclamation to confiscation in order to pay for the horrible reconcentration system; their generals, leaders and burghers, like Lotter, Scheepers, Louw and others, shot or hung after court martial—the veriest travesty of justice when the life of an enemy is at stake during war, when men's passions are inflamed, and their judgment clouded—and lastly, no definite prospect before them in case they surrender, but the very definite statement of Lord Salisbury that they shall not have a shred of independence."

The envoys conclude a lengthy statement by deploring "the fact that a part of the territory of the United States has been and is being used by officers of the British government as a base of operations against the two republics." This refers to the British supply station at New Orleans, which evades our obligations of neutrality.

AN EAR OF CORN.

Mr. D. Trout, one of the oldest and best known farmers in Licking county, while engaged in husking corn at his home in Madison township, a short time ago, came across an ear of corn that is a veritable freak. It is of ordinary size, but surrounding it are six smaller ears of corn. It is somewhat similar to the freak of corn described in the Advocate some days ago. Mr. Trout has preserved the ear of corn and takes great pleasure in showing it to all his friends. He says that he has planted five grains of corn taken from the ear, and that he will watch it until it matures.

AMUSEMENTS.

One of the real novelties of the theatrical season is Edward Blondell's new laughable musical conceit, entitled "The Katzenjammer Kids," which will be seen at the Auditorium Tuesday night, April 1. It is brimful of new ideas, situations and novelties; the music is popular and catchy, the dialogue bright and crisp with high class specialties introduced, and unlike most farce comedies, there is a natural reason for their introduction. The managers of farce-comedies have been content so far to entertain their audiences with a series of old time worn out subjects, filled in with specialties enough to complete two and a half hours of entertainment. This has become somewhat monotonous to the average theatre goer, which obvious fact gave the inspiration for "The Katzenjammer Kids," and the result is that while we have all the latest vaudeville hits, we have combined with it the essence of bright comedy music boiling around with a constant intelligent story which is developed by a company of stars of the first magnitude. The prominent members are the Blondells, the leaders of juvenile character delineators. Supporting them are the Cosmopolitan Trio, Bates Musical Trio, Ramsey Sisters, Prof. Heck, Rianneck Sisters, Master Bergman, Jack Simonds, Roy Atto, Edwin Turner Adell, René Albert Prince and many others. The first act is an hilarious farce, the second is devoted to high class specialties and pantomime comedy, and the third and last act is made up of refined comedy. The play is made doubly attractive by the introduction of big musical numbers, magnificent scenic effects and handsome costumes. Mr. Blondell has also secured the colored light effects used at the Pan-American Exposition and he is now using them in their illuminated cabinet scene in this hilariously funny farce comedy, which will be seen at the Auditorium Tuesday night.

MIDNIGHT IN CHINATOWN.
The big sensational melodrama that will play at the Auditorium on April 1, "Midnight in Chinatown," contains every element that is demanded in melodrama of today, and the numerous exciting situations are vigorously expressed by the company selected to play it. The plot is clearly outlined and the execution is rapid. No tire-some diversions while the story is being interpreted, except in one scene which demands a break, for the perfection of the plot. The big production will be staged with all magnificent paraphernalia necessary for the proper presentation of sumptuous smoking parlors, as well as a picture of the rough side of the opium fiend. Especial care has been employed to portray the various classes of opium smokers from the tough girl, to the villain in high life, and the climax of the play occurs in his apartments, where he has lured the heroine and from which she is rescued by her lover and a squad of police. Magnificent settings are promised for the office of Donanza Mine, the Frisco Bay and fountain Top resort. A large cast of able actors and actresses are employed in the cast.

FOXY QUILLER COMING.
The Klaw & Erlanger Opera Company now the largest musical organization in the country is to present "Foxy Quiller" the quintessence of de Koven and Smith's music and merriest and the worthy successor of Robin Hood, at the Auditorium on April 7th. Jerome Sykes is the star of the organization. The opera has all the brightness and catchiness in its tunes and libretto to furnish excellent entertainment to a laughter loving public. It appeals to the ear as de Koven knows best how to appeal, and to the humor with Harry B. Smith's special faculty for creating cerebral fun. And the combination is one from which only good things can be expected, since de Koven and Smith is as famous a trademark on light opera in this land and generation as the Gilbert and Sullivan brand of a departed day. Klaw & Erlanger have developed all the spectacular possibilities of "Foxy Quiller" to their utmost—beautiful women, superb stage pictures, magnificent costumes and military trifles of surpassing grace and color effects. A splendid collection of male and female voices and a cast that is not easily rivaled—that is the setting given to Mr. Jerome Sykes. "Foxy Quiller" dominates the three acts, his superlative comeliness, his monumental conceit and his unbridled self-descriptions making laughter in true Sykes fashion. Big Sykes shares honors with little Adolph Zink, the hilarious, whose ability and amusing ways are one of the features. The cast is an exceptional one and would overshadow any star less capable of keeping the center of the stage than Jerome Sykes.

REV. JOS. WEHRLE
Is a Linguist—What the Catholic Columbian Says of This Former Newark Resident.

An edifying spectacle was presented at St. John's church, Bellaire, last Sunday when all the men's societies of the parish approached holy Communion in a body. These were the Holy Name Society, the A. O. H., the Knights of St. John, and St. Mary's Society of the first Slovak Union, 409 in all, besides 100 women of the congregation. High Mass was celebrated by the pastor, Rev. J. M. Wehrle, assisted by Rev. Dominick Noon, O. P. of St. Joseph's priory, Somerset. A large number of Italians also approached holy Communion. At the regular evening service Father Dominick preached a short sermon in Italian and also in English. Father Wehrle had a surprise in store for the Slovak members of his parish, for he not only heard their confessions in their own language, but also preached a sermon in Slovak at the early Mass. It is only six weeks since Father Wehrle began to study Slovak and the progress he has made in this short time is remarkable. His proficiency he attributes entirely to his reliance on the intercession of Our Lady of Perpetual Help, to whom he and his congregation have such a tender devotion. Father Wehrle mastered the strange Bohemian tongue amid a multiplicity of parish duties—Lenten sermons, catechetical lectures, and instructions for the children. He states that now he will pay his respects to the Italian language, and not long ago he announced to the A. O. H. that if he could find a Gaelic teacher he would study the Irish language.—Catholic Columbian.

LIVE A CENTURY.
We Must Live Natural to Become Centenarians.

History tells us that in the good old times, men used to live a century. In those days the sturdy men and women followed closely all the laws of nature. It's unnatural habits and the abuse of the body that brings on old age. Live natural if you would enjoy a long life and a ripe old age. We must not expect impure or imperfect food to produce perfect health. Here is the key to health in a nutshell! Live natural and look well to your diet. There is a continual waste going on in the body and this must be rebuilt or we would soon die of premature old age. Food, not medicine, will do this. The food expert who made the experiments which resulted in the production of Malt-Nut, had studied the question of repairing the daily waste in the body and aimed to produce a perfect food. By combining heat digested malted cereals with emulsified oil of nuts, Malt-Nut is not only a brain and muscle builder, but a fat and tissue forming food, containing all the elements of nutrition demanded by nature to repair the daily waste of the body. Malt-Nut has a delicious, nutty taste and by reason of the scientific treatment the ingredients are subjected to is easily digested by the weakest stomach. It gives strength to the invalid and keeps the athlete robust. Sold by grocers everywhere.

Shocking and Disgusting.

(Hartford Courant.)
What has come along of late more disgusting than this fuss and fuddle over that man Brownback, who has been advertising for a wife and is now making notoriety by exploiting his applications. He poses as a minister and very likely may be one, but is there not some way that the dignity of the cloth can be protected from the reflections cast by such conduct as his? It is as pitiful as it is disgusting to find a string of women waiting for him to select from among them the one who suits him best. What has become of the sacredness of the marriage tie and the modest hesitancy of decent womanhood? It is shocking that this SORTY jest should have such circulation and that society should take it as a jest at all.

Omega Oil is better for Sore, Tender, Tired Feet than foot powders, because it goes inside, where the pain is, while the powders stay outside. The Oil is such a simple remedy, and it is just as sure as it is simple. Bathe your feet at night with warm water and soap, wipe them dry and then rub Omega Oil in. Rub good and hard and often. That's all you have to do to make your feet well.

LODGE NEWS

Odd Fellows.

Odd Fellows in all sections of the state are preparing for a big demonstration on April 26, when the eighty-third anniversary of the introduction of Odd Fellowship into America will be celebrated.

It comes from Dayton that Department Commander of Ohio John C. Whitaker of the Patriarchs Militant is soon to resign his position, owing to his duties as chief of police of Dayton, and secretary and treasurer of the Association of Chiefs of Police of Ohio demanding all of his time. General Whitaker has been the efficient head of the Patriarchs Militant for a number of years. His resignation is to be presented so as to be effective on May 1st. Brigadier General B. O. Eddy of Youngstown, who is second in command, is likely to be appointed to the vacant position. General Eddy commands the First brigade and has made an enviable record. This brigade always turns out the most men at reviews and parades and has grown wonderfully under his directorship. General Eddy has not missed a cantonment or parade since he has been an officer in the Militants, a record to be proud of, and, as stated, his brigade is always the largest in line. There is not much doubt but that he will receive the commission. The regular election does not take place until next December, and the appointment will be made to fill out the interim. General Eddy was appointed a brigadier general some seven years ago and has twice been elected to the office since that time.

Evergreen Lodge I. O. O. F. of Etta chartered a special car on Tuesday evening and visited one of the Newark lodges, where two degrees were conferred. The car cost the lodge $25.00—Pataskala Standard.

Mrs. Sarah Francis, widow of the late Hiram T. Francis, died at the home of her son, Daniel Francis, on East street, at 1:45 o'clock Saturday morning aged 82 years and 10 months.

Mrs. Francis has been failing for some time past, having been a sufferer from stomach trouble, and on December 30, last, she sustained a stroke of paralysis, from which on account of her age, she never fully recovered.

The deceased was Sarah Farmer, and was born in Hopewell township this county. In 1848 she was married to Hiram T. Francis and together they lived for a number of years at the home farm and Clay Lick, removing to Newark 20 years ago.

Mrs. Francis was the mother of five children one daughter and four sons. The daughter is Mrs. Mary Herdman of Ontario, Ohio. The four sons were all railroad men, two surviving. Daniel a B. & O. engineer, of this city, and John, a conductor on a southern road. David one of the most genial and popular conductors on the B. & O., died some three years ago while Milo a B. & O. engineer, was killed on the Barnesville hill, while on duty last August.

Mrs. Francis had been a life long member of the Disciple church until a month ago, when she was received into the communion of the Roman Catholic church, in which faith she died.

Gray Hair a Crime?

Thousands of men and women are turned out of positions and many fail to secure situations because their gray hairs make them look old. This need not be.

Hay's Hair-Health

makes age halt and keeps thousands in employment because it takes years from their apparent age. HAIR-HEALTH will positively restore gray, faded or bleached hair to its youthful color. It is not a dye. Its use cannot be detected. Equally good for men and women.

Gentlemen.—At forty my hair and mustache began turning gray. A friend on my road told me that because my gray hair made him look older than he was. Profiting by his experience, I began using Hay's Hair-Health, with the result that I have the same dark brown curly hair that I had at 25. Have held my position, although many younger men, whose only fault was their gray hair, have been dismissed. I thank you for my position.

THE W. C. T. U.

Owing to the all-day meeting held at the Methodist church on last Tuesday the usual W. C. T. U. meeting was omitted. It was decided at the last meeting to take the ladies' names alphabetically to conduct the devotionals for the next six months. Mrs. R. A. Anderson was asked to take charge on next Tuesday. There will be a business meeting and very important questions will come up for discussion and decision. There will be reports given by Superintendents and Committees. New members will be received. The president urges every member to be present. All friends of temperance are invited.

Some persons are under the impression that work for the Temperance Temple at Chicago has been given up. But this is not true. Interest and work goes steadily on, with Mrs. Carse at the helm. Contributions are coming in rapidly, and it is believed that the W. C. T. U. will soon have the controlling interest. Temperance items in the Appeal are always headed with a helpful scriptural verse.

Faith, if it hath not words, is dead, being alone. We are bound to thank God always for you brethren, as it is meet, because that your faith groweth exceedingly. So that we ourselves glory in you for your patience and faith in all your persecutions and tribulations that ye endure. Wherefore also we pray always for you that our God would count you worthy of his calling and fulfill all the good pleasure of His goodness and the words of faith with power.

Every day except Sunday a noon-tide meeting is held and many testify to being saved through these meetings.

WILLARD HALL NOTES.

Twenty-eight months ago, before my conversion, I was nothing but a Chicago "bum." I slept nearly every night on the station stone floor; but today I am a sober working man. I have much to thank God for and much to say for Willard Hall.

Another testimonial—I praise God he has put it into the hearts of men and women to go out after such as I once was and compel them to come into this salvation. I thank God for this Hall where we can testify and strengthen our faith.

DON'T DISAPPOINT THE LITTLE FELLOW AT EASTER

That is the time of all the year that they take the most delight in New Clothes. Bring them here. We can clothe the little fellows so that their appearance will be up-to-date and the cost the smallest item in the transaction.

Whether you choose from the $1.50 or those at $5.00 and up, the proportion of satisfaction is just the same in the medium grade as in the finer, handsome suits in Vestee, Norfolk, Russian Blouse, Sailor Blouse and Double-Breasted effects.

If we clothe your boy he will be one of the best dressed boys in Newark on Easter Sunday.

SOCIETY NEWS OF THE WEEK

Mrs. W. H. VanWinkle entertained a few of her friends on Monday in honor of her sister, Mrs. Marion Rine, of Dresden. An enjoyable time was had.

Invitations were issued this week for the dance to be given by the Lafayette club at Brennan's hall next Tuesday evening, April 1. A large attendance is expected as this will be the first dance given after the Lenten season.

Dr. Brown, wife and daughter Mrs. Chas. Hawley entertained Monday evening with a six o'clock dinner in honor of their cousin's, Mrs. L. F. Blue and daughter Sadie of Marysville. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Burr Miller, Mrs. Anna Hall, Mrs. Lucy Fleming, and Mr. and Mrs. Rollin F. Williams.

The surprise party given by Mrs. George Hogrefe Wednesday night at her home No. 504 West Main street, in honor of her husband's birthday anniversary, was an enjoyable affair. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Tabler, Mr. and Mrs. Clem Kinney, Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. William McDaniel, Misses Sue Steel, Anna Henshaw, Tena Hogrefe, Helen Kinney and Master Walter Kinney.

Mr. Fred and Miss Mary Fulton charmingly entertained a number of friends with an Easter party at their pretty home three miles west of the city on Thursday evening. Games and music were among the social pleasures enjoyed. The prizes in the guessing game being won by Miss Lottie Johnson and Mr. Angus Smith. The guests were the Misses Bess and Ella Hamilton, Flavia Hartshorn, Maud Beall, Lottie Johnson and Lucy Wyeth, and Messrs. Harry Scott, Wright Wyeth, Angus Smith, Ross Hamilton, George and Harold Hartshorn and Prof. Austin.

On Friday evening Mrs. George Smythe gave a parcel shower for Miss Blanch O'Bannon, who is visiting in the city. The guest of Mrs. James Smith and family Miss O'Donnell is soon to be married to Dr. Canfield of Kansas. The entertainment given by Mrs. Smythe and her daughter, Miss Lora, was most delightful. A fine supper was served. The table was beautifully decorated with tulips and carnations, and the place cards made a literary guessing game. A number of beautiful gifts accompanied by congratulations, were showered upon Miss O'Bannon. Among the guests present were Mrs. Chas. Smith, Mrs. John Woolson, Mrs. Fred Seymour, Misses Julia Smith, Mary Miller, Eva Thacker, Ella May and Margaret Wallace, and Miss Atchley.

When a pretty woman is stared at she doesn't consider it a glaring fault. A woman can sharpen a man's wit even if she can't sharpen a lead pencil. In digging up a courtyard of St. James' Palace, London, a coffin containing the body of a monk was found, together with a lot of loose skulls and human bones. The coffin was then remembered that the palace was built on the site of an old leper hospital.

Spain has been having a bad time with frost and snow this winter. The snow has been deep in the streets of Madrid and six inches deep in the Buren-Retiro Park. The orange trees and sugar cane in the south have been seriously damaged.

CODE BILL

SUBSTITUTE FOR KIBLER-PUGH MEASURE.

Code Bill Recommended for Passage and Will be Reported to House Next Week.

Columbus O., March 29.—It developed last night that a substitute for the Pugh-Kibler Municipal Code bill for the uniform government of municipalities in Ohio, now pending in the House of Representatives, is being prepared. The code bill has been recommended for passage and will be reported to the House next week. Nearly 200 amendments, ordered by the committee, are now being printed. The politicians have not agreed with the main points of the code, and the new bill is being drafted along the lines that they approve. Two years ago the code bill was prevented from passing, by the introduction of a measure prepared by Senator George Sienor of Akron. That bill provided that each municipality might have the fullest home rule, being permitted to select its own form of government. The proposed scheme of the new bill has not yet been permitted to become public.

The Columbus Dispatch of last night said: The Pugh-Kibler municipal code has at last emerged from the committee and will be reported back to the house for passage. The report is not an unanimous one however, for Messrs. Huffman, McDonald, Denman and Coughlin have reserved the right to oppose the bill on the floor of the house. There are about fifty amendments attached to the bill, leaving police, fire and health departments under civil service but not permitting dismissal from this class of service except for cause.

An important amendment to the bill is that it cuts out the attorney general and his chance to make a "little on the side" by allowing him a fee of one-fifth of one per cent. for examining all municipal bonds. The bill provides that a municipality of 5,000 people is a city and that under that number it is a village.

All reference to schools and franchises is eliminated from the bill, leaving the general statutes to regulate these matters. The tax levy for villages is limited to ten mills and for cities to sixteen mills.

Mr. Denman of Lucas, offered his amendments to give control of the fire and police departments to a bipartisan board and to have the directors of accounts and public affairs elected but these were rejected. Mr. Denman says he will offer the amendments on the floor of the house when the bill comes up for passage.

Last year in Venezuela alone 2,000,000 birds were killed for fashion's sake. One London dealer admitted 12 years ago long before fashion was so pitiless as now, that he sold 2,000,000 small birds every 12 months. Three recent consignments to London included 10,000 birds of paradise, nearly 800 packages of osprey feathers, 4,700 crested pigeons, 5,500 imperial pheasants, 200 bird skins, 270 cases of peacock feathers, 1,500 Argus pheasants and 500 various other small birds.

to the bills and they will have to be brought to their knees in submission to the party whip before anything can be done.

The situation with reference to taxation is rendered doubly embarrassing to the Republicans by reason of the fact that they do not know what will be the result of the Willis bill, if passed. It is not the bill originally planned by the administration and has perhaps not half the revenue-raising power of its predecessor.

During a talk with Senator Foraker Monday night a prominent local Republican while discussing the Willis bill and other administration tax measures made the frank statement that should the bills go into effect, so little revenue would be returned to the state that it would be absolutely necessary for the governor to call an extra session of the state legislature in January to provide some means for meeting the current expenses of the state for the next year. He declared that the bills would not and could not raise sufficient funds, and insisted frankly that the passage of them would list the state as a bankrupt. Senator Foraker, it may be said, did not dispute the assertion.

At least one good trick was turned during the past week by the fate that overtook the Painter bill for the abandonment of the state canals. The committee on public works reported the Steber substitute Tuesday afternoon and it was accepted by the house and the original measure laid away. The substitute is the same as that already published with the exception that in the preamble the word "forever" is eliminated and the state is pledged to the care and maintenance of the canals without time limitation. It will be further amended by the provision that in case of abandonment the state shall only pay 75 per cent of the value of the boats on the canal instead of the full value, as originally provided. It was made a special order for next Tuesday at 10:30 o'clock and will pass almost certainly.

Early in the session the administration was forced to recede from its position in favor of the abandonment of the canal. If the scheme had not developed the opposition that swamped it so early in its sweet young life, the administration would have backed it "for all it was worth." Governor Nash, however, saw the handwriting on the wall, and discreetly called off the administration workers who up to that time under instructions, had been doing anything in their power to promote abandonment. This is one of the many things in which failure has overtaken the state administration at the present session, without having general attention called to the fact.

The triumph of the Hanna program in the matter of redistricting the state for congressional purposes, is something of which no Democrat will complain. Leaving the districts as now constituted only saves the Democracy from the perpetration of a worse outrage against the principle of popular representation in government. It will be readily admitted that the present apportionment is bad enough, but it is far better than anything the redistricters would have offered, if once they got a good start. Boss Hanna's victory in this affair was due to George B. Cox, as usual. In fact, the two houses can do nothing independently of one another. It is the general opinion here that under the old congressional apportionment the Republicans will lose both the Third and Twelfth Districts at the next election. It is certain that Congressman Tompkins cannot be re-elected.

The amount taken was claimed to be $9.51. The Court of Common Pleas sent Murphy to the Reformatory, but on application of his counsel, S. L. James the court suspended the execution of sentence to enable the Circuit Court to pass upon certain claimed errors in the record, and it will do so at this term of the court.

EASTER FASHIONS

Box of Pink Ribbon Roses.

Watch the girl of the moment buying her Easter wardrobe and you will surely mistake her for the summer girl. No longer can you recognize the Easter girl by her clothes. Fashion's latest puzzle is to distinguish the spring gowns from summer gowns.

There was a time when spring fashions meant light weight cloth gowns and jackets, hats of velvet and substantial straw, and though lighter colors were used it was evident that the spring styles were more closely related, at least in weight of fabric, to the winter fashions than the summer modes. Now all this is changed. Easter gowns require transparent stuffs. Easter hats are suggestive of summer days, and the dress accessories of the moment are lace, embroideries, flowers, chiffons and soft ribbons. The Easter gowns will show the same general outlines as the gowns we are now wearing—that is, skirts will fit the hips, Eton jacket and the blouse with a little collar and flare below the knees; the fitted basque will be worn, and slenderness of figure will continue to be the aim of the fashionable woman. But it will be in the fabric itself, in the treatment of the collar, in the trimming of the sleeves and in the extreme novelty of the materials in favor just now are the canvas weaves, the etamines, hop sackings and two-toned mohairs. Transparent fabrics are distinctly in the lead. For elaborate gowns the sheer broche grenadines, with their satin stripes and silk flowers; the filmy printed chiffonettes and the embroidered barege and veiling robes will be much used.

In Black and White With Rose-Tipped Streamers.

All gowns will be lavishly trimmed, and the trimmings are genuine works of art. Embroidered bands in Japanese and Chinese effects are among the novelties, and trimmings consisting of lace designs mingled with silk embroidered or chiffon flowers.

Much galloon and passementerie will be used and beaded trimmings will be highly favored.

Though entire gowns of taffeta will be worn, more bands will replace those of taffeta as a trimming.

Let the girl of fashion remember in planning her Easter wardrobe that the tailor gown is no longer built on severe lines. It, too, has been influenced by the craze for elaboration. That the good skirt is favored and the habit back still fashionable. That plaited skirts will be worn, shawing various designs in hip yokes.

That the blouse and bodice will also be in demand, but care should be taken before selecting it that the style suits the figure. That the sleeve was never so important as right now and that the more elaborate it is the more fashionable. That it will be gathered slightly into the armhole instead of fitting plain, and that rarely is the sleeve cut in one piece.

There are slashed sleeves and double sleeves and plaited, tucked, puffed and shirred sleeves. That embroideries, ribbons and laces are everywhere. Many and clever are the novelties being fashioned out of ribbon for the Easter Girl.

Woman's Love for Lace.

It Grows Stronger as This Filmy Creation Grows Finer.

This season no costume is complete without its bit of lace, even rough, heavy cloth being thus adorned.

To just whom and what—unless it be woman and her excellent taste—we are indebted for the present popularity of this effective trimming would be difficult to say; but had it not been for the nuns of 1490, my lady of 1920 would have had no such article with which to enhance her charms.

While netting and embroidery are of very ancient origin, the first record of lace bears the date 1490, and to Italy is conceded its invention. Even then, its manufacture was confined exclusively to the convent and its use to the church, so that it was called, instead of "lace," "nun's work," a title by which it is still known in some parts of Italy and Spain.

Until 1450, when it came into comparatively general use, the method of making this work was considered a secret of the church, as only nuns were skilled in the art. After that year, however, instructions were given to the novices and schools were opened and were attended by even the daughters of kings.

If we are to believe all that we hear and read, it would seem that the fondness for lace of that eccentric English sovereign, Queen Elizabeth, amounted to a passion; she is said to have left over 1000 dresses, all lavishly ornamented with this filmy garniture.

Naturally, ever since its first use for personal adornment, lace has been considered peculiarly appropriate for decorating bridal robes. In this connection, Napoleon's unhappy Empress Josephine must have had in her darkened life one very bright memory; her bridal veil was a present from the city of Brussels, justly famed for its exquisite point lace. This veil, which extended far over the train, had a groundwork as fine as a cobweb, with a pattern of delicate flowers. In each corner were the Imperial crown and cipher, encircled by wreaths of flowers.

The late Queen Victoria, with characteristic independence, selected both her husband and her bridal laces. Her wedding dress and veil of English Honiton were made within her realm, at Bever, a small fishing village whose workers were noted for their skill.

The robe cost in money 1,000 pounds, but its cost in skill and patience to those who made it cannot even be imagined. The sprigs were worked separately, and when enough were completed, the flowers and other designs were connected by lace stitches.

The first machine-made lace was the result of the ingenuity of an Englishman named Hammond. He was by occupation a stocking frame knitter, and one day, while examining some lace, conceived the idea of using his own machine for its manufacture. The scheme succeeded, and though the article produced, having but a single thread, which broke easily, was of rather inferior quality. Today the most favored laces are Point de Venise, Irish crochet and Italian filet. The first resembles Duchesse, though it is not so pretty, and is extensively used for revers and collars over velvet and satin. Silk Cluny is a dainty and expensive trimming for filmy gowns.

IT'S A FAD IN PARIS.

Girls may begin practicing as soon as they like the wearing of patches upon their lily and rose complexions. Though these adornments are scarcely likely to be adopted in our country save for fancy dress parties—for, as a nation, we are adverse to anything so decidedly sensational, unless it is very generally seen and has become almost a habit by frequent repetition—in Paris they are actually being worn again. And, indeed, it is enormously becoming, this lozenge of dense hue upon a pearly background. The very latest patch code is as follows: "Manslaughter" is the terrible title of the round patch, which is said to be extremely dangerous to the susceptibilities of easily impressed young men. Fixed at the corner of the left eye the patch is more than usually potent. The "gallant" is worn in the middle of the cheek; the "bold" is very literally so called, for it appears on the nose, while the "coquette" accords to the lower lip an uncommon air of piquancy.

The shirtwaist fever is epidemic, and all the patients are waiting around loose in the shops, carrying large consignments of samples.

VEILS ARE MORE POPULAR THAN EVER

In spite of the edict which went forth some years ago to the effect that veils are injurious to the eyes, these aids to deception are more popular this season than ever.

It doesn't necessarily follow that the oculist—it is said to have been a follower of that profession—who discovered and was so rash as to make known the injurious effects of these filmy articles was a poor business man. The more natural conclusion is that he was well acquainted with the peculiarities of femininity and knew that where a means of improving its appearance is concerned it is utterly reckless as to after results.

Another objection was raised—this time by a woman—to the effect that, by gathering dust, which is absorbed by the skin, the wearer of a veil runs great risks as to her complexion. This, however, no more visibly lessened the number of wearers than did the opinion of the learned oculist.

Why shouldn't women wear veils? In the first place, it is a privilege exclusively hers, and upon which man may not infringe, as he did upon the shirtwaist last summer.

When judgment is displayed in their selection, they beautify in a manner quite remarkable, but when worn with an utter disregard for coloring, costume, etc., they produce results quite as astonishing, but alas! in quite the opposite direction.

Every well-dressed woman of to-day has her assortment of veils; that of Mrs. Langtry, the embodiment of good taste, is said to be one of her hobbies. Great care is taken to keep them in perfect condition, each one having its particular piece of cardboard, around which it is carefully adjusted when not adorning its fair wearer.

What, except a veil, will keep the hair in place and the hat in position on the windiest of days? and what other means is there of making a woman well along in years appear ten years younger than her actual age, or of bringing out the charms of a pretty face so effectively?

Though one must experiment to believe it, there is a great deal of warmth in a veil of even the flimsiest description, and on a cold day one will add much to the comfort of the owner; it needn't be an unsightly one, either.

The popular chiffon veil of this season, without dots or with sparingly scattered ones, is more generally becoming than the thickly dotted one, which left visible scarcely any of the mesh.

A brunette with a fresh color can wear a veil in which the dots are large and comparatively close, while a black cloud of fine mesh and very small dots, far apart, adds charm to blonde beauty. With brown hair and eyes and a clear skin, a veil several shades lighter than the hair is most effective, but take the advice of experience and never be guilty of wearing a gray one.

The veil is an institution for which women should be deeply grateful, and, in the humble opinion of this column, is productive of unpleasant results only when one of the sex privileged to wear it is so thoughtless as to read through it.

A FEW DON'TS WORTH DOING.

Don't preach unless your practice. Deeds are more convincing.

Don't confound hauteur with dignity. One wins dislike, the other respect.

Don't tell too much, and be careful to whom you tell anything at all.

Don't worship the Esq; respect it.

Don't put a vase on a table in your window for the benefit of passers-by. Put it where the family may enjoy its beauty, if it's worth it.

Don't wear clothes that shriek; then resent it when persons stare in amazement.

Don't make eyes at men, or sniff or giggle, if you wish to be fascinating. Men detest all three.

Don't forget that between love and indifference lies the kingdom of hatred.

Don't despair because you are not beautiful. To be neat and loyal is possible.

THE EASTER LADY WILL BE FETCHING.

Taffeta Parasol With Applique of Black Lace.

Perhaps the prettiest and most effective of all is the box of ribbon roses. The roses are large and closely petalled and are made of soft Liberty satin or lousine ribbon. For these ribbon rose boxes, pink is the favorite color. The roses either form the entire neck portion of a ruff or the pointed ribbon is used and one rose or a cluster is fastened in front at each side. There are always long ribbon ends with a fine caught lace and there, single ribbon roses are also sold to wear in the hair, and a cluster of them mounted on wire stems rolled in ribbon is taking the place of the ribbon chon at the corsage. Neck ruffs and bows are to occupy a conspicuous and important place in the wardrobe of the Easter girl. They will be worn in chiffon, mull, ostrich and marabout as well as ribbon. They are much longer than last season and much more elaborate. These with the chiffon plaited and tied to simulate tassel ends are among the novelties also those of powdered ribbon and others, complete and persimable, of white chiffon or faint green scattered with little raised pink chiffon pompadour roses. As for the Easter hats, they are really the novelty of the moment. It is made of the most tempting, natural looking raisins imaginable, perfect in color and shape. "It makes me hungry just to look at it," said a girl of fashion the other day, who was admiring the raisin hat, and her companion remarked, "Yes, I could eat it right up."

The raisin hat seen at its best is combined with folds of soft tulle and ribbon. Though the crown bears a striking resemblance to an open box of raisins, set in no way does this detract from the pretty effect of the hat as a whole. The ribbon, which is draped about the flat crown, is in changing shades of violet and the foam-like folds of tulle underneath it are faint green, and then come the clusters of raisins which outline the shape of the hat all the way round.

Though raisins, grapes, raspberries, cherries and currants trim many of the Easter hats, they in no way rob the flower hat of its popularity.

Flower hats and flower trimmed hats will be the most fashionable hats of all at Easter. A charming touch of novelty is given a dashing black and white picture hat by having a cluster of loops of white ribbon caught to the under side of the brim where it flares. From these loops rose tipped ribbon ends dangle. The roses are white on this particular hat to correspond with the long array of roses and buds which wanders over the hat close to the Hat.

Embroidered White Batiste Gown.

Black and white effects are the vogue in the new parasols and both the fluffy and the plain parasol will be carried by the smart girl—for it is she who appreciates the fact that the parasol must suit the gown if she herself is to be a finished picture. Lace appliques are much used as a parasol decoration this season and pretty effects are obtained by having the border of the parasol a fancy silk and the center a plain silk, appliqued with lace designs carried out in black and white such a parasol is extremely good style. Narrow velvet ribbon is also used to advantage on many of the new parasols, arranged to produce a ray effect, with the border of the parasol a mass of chiffon frills. The new parasols are much larger than last season. Now that lace and embroidery occupy such important places in the world of fashion, this spring the Easter girl is specially interested in the lace gowns and those trimmed with embroidery. Gowns of white and black chantilly lace are in the show and the Irish crochet lace dresses are marvels of loveliness. One new original model in Irish crochet is an evening gown and shows the lace combined with a lattice of pale pink narrow velvet ribbon. Under the frills and ribbon lattice work skirt is a petticoat of white tulle. The chiffon chon, which adds to the charm of the bodice of the gown, is shaped like a butterfly and is made of changeable violet and pink chiffon. As the season advances the tendency for embroidered gowns and the lavish use of embroidery will be more and more felt. Picture gowns of sheer batiste will be worn—robe dresses made with embroidery insets.

Willie's Sensations During a Face-Washing Bout.

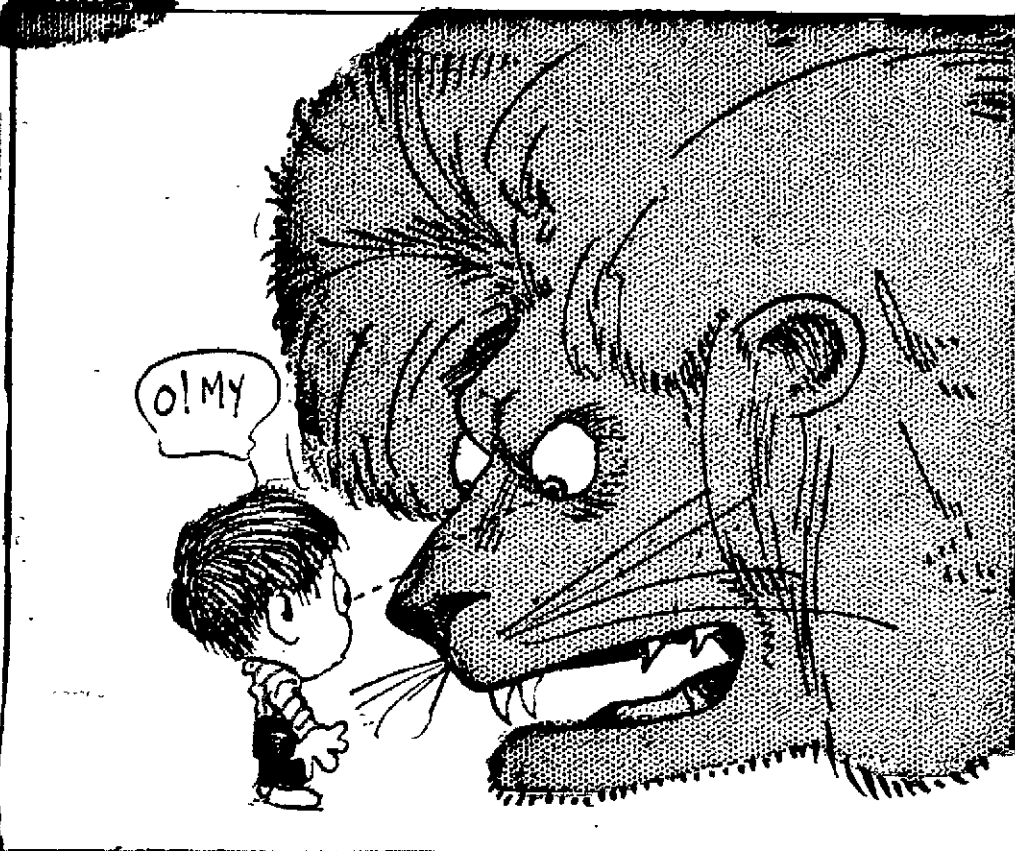

AFTER WILLIE HAS DABBLED IN MUD PIES TO A DEPLORABLE EXTENT,

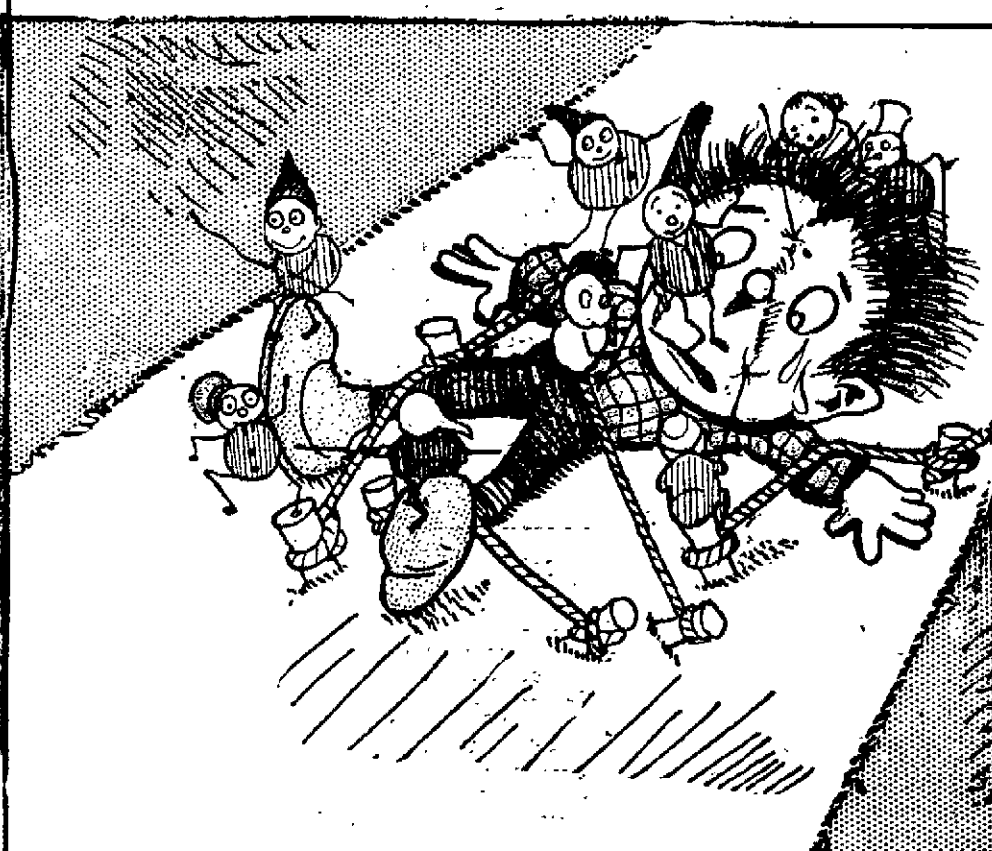

HE FEELS AS THOUGH HE WERE IN THE CLUTCHES OF A TERRIBLE GIANT.

OR A FIERY DRAGON.

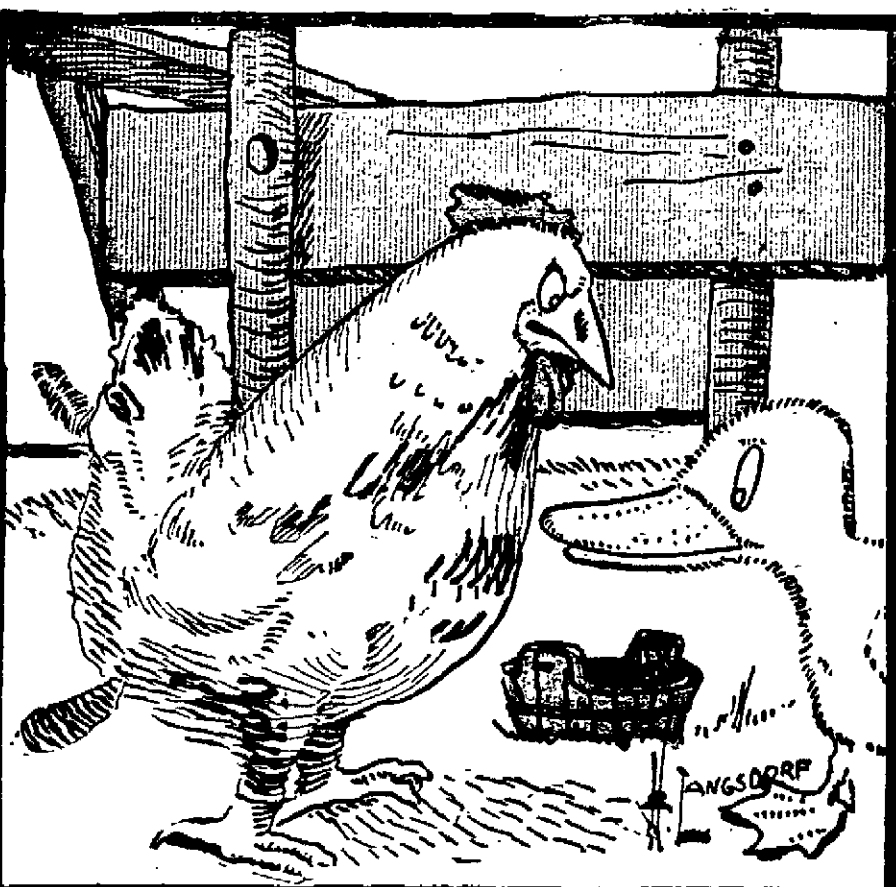

HE THINKS, POSSIBLY, IT IS A ROARING LION HE IS UP AGAINST;

AND HE IS SOMEWHAT REMINDED OF GULLIVER AND THE LILIPUTIANS.
